You've booked your appointment at Something Blue and you're counting down the days until you try on all of those gorgeous gowns—but the question is, what do you bring to your appointment? Make sure to check these items off of your list so you're set for a successful day of wedding dress shopping.

Inspiration

Bringing along wedding dress inspiration to your appointment is very important. Some great ways to share your wedding inspiration are through your pre-appointment interview with one of our stylists, your personal Pinterest board, or emailing or texting your photos to us before your appointment. If you're not sure about what you're looking for, sharing venue, decoration, or theme ideas can help your consultant lead you in the right direction.

Proper undergarments

While shapewear and the perfect bra aren't necessary until your first fitting, feeling and looking your best will ultimately help you feel more confident in finding the dress of your dreams. We suggest bringing along or wearing a supportive nude strapless or convertible bra, seamless nude underwear (such as boyshorts, thong, or high-cut underwear), as well as any shapewear you'd like to wear under your dress.

Hair ties & clips

Not only are you going to want to sweep your hair out of your face so you can get a full view of the dresses you'll be trying on, but pulling your hair up with a hair tie or clip will also help you envision your wedding day look if you choose to wear an updo.

Appropriate shoes

Make sure you bring along proper footwear to try on with your dress. Already bought your wedding shoes? Great! If not, bring along similar-looking shoes to the pair you'd like to wear on your wedding day (think heels vs. flats).

Your squad

Make sure you bring along a few close family members and friends to help you "Say Yes". Keep in mind though that less is definitely more—too many opinions from eager family members and friends can ultimately make your decision tougher. You may bring up to 4 guests to your appointment.

A realistic budget

Finally, come up with a relative idea of how much you'd like to spend on a dress. You should also include room in your budget for alterations, headpieces, a veil, and any jewelry.
